

IRAKARAMA BERGERAC

SOFTWARE ENGINEER

ABOUT ME

I am a passionate and results-driven Software Engineer with strong expertise in Java and its frameworks (Spring Boot, Hibernate) for building robust back-end systems. I also specialize in modern JavaScript technologies, including Node.js and NestJS for server-side development, and React and Next.js for creating responsive, high-performance front-end applications. I enjoy building scalable full-stack solutions and continuously seek to learn and implement best practices in software architecture, testing, and deployment.
